

CELINE D. COATH, AIA

Principal

Building addition to St. Bede Faith Formation Center
Ingleside, Illinois

Interior remodeling at Flossmoor Community Church
Flossmoor, Illinois

Experience

Mrs. Coath has extensive experience in all aspects of architecture and interior design with particular emphasis on multi-disciplinary team leadership, project direction, management, and design quality assurance. She has been practicing architecture since 1980 when she joined Perkins & Will and developed her interest in educational architecture. Celine later joined the interior design firm, Hancock & Hancock, where she developed a greater attention to interior detailing.

These combined experiences led Celine to further her career in educational architecture at OWP&P Architects, where she was promoted to associate principal and worked in the firm's school design core group for 10 years. In 1995 Celine joined Ruck Pate architecture where she began her experience in the private education sector and in religious architecture. In 2000 she joined JNA to further develop her expertise and interest in educational and religious architecture. She has been a principal of the firm since 2005 and has been instrumental in developing the firm's attention to detail in educational and religious projects.
